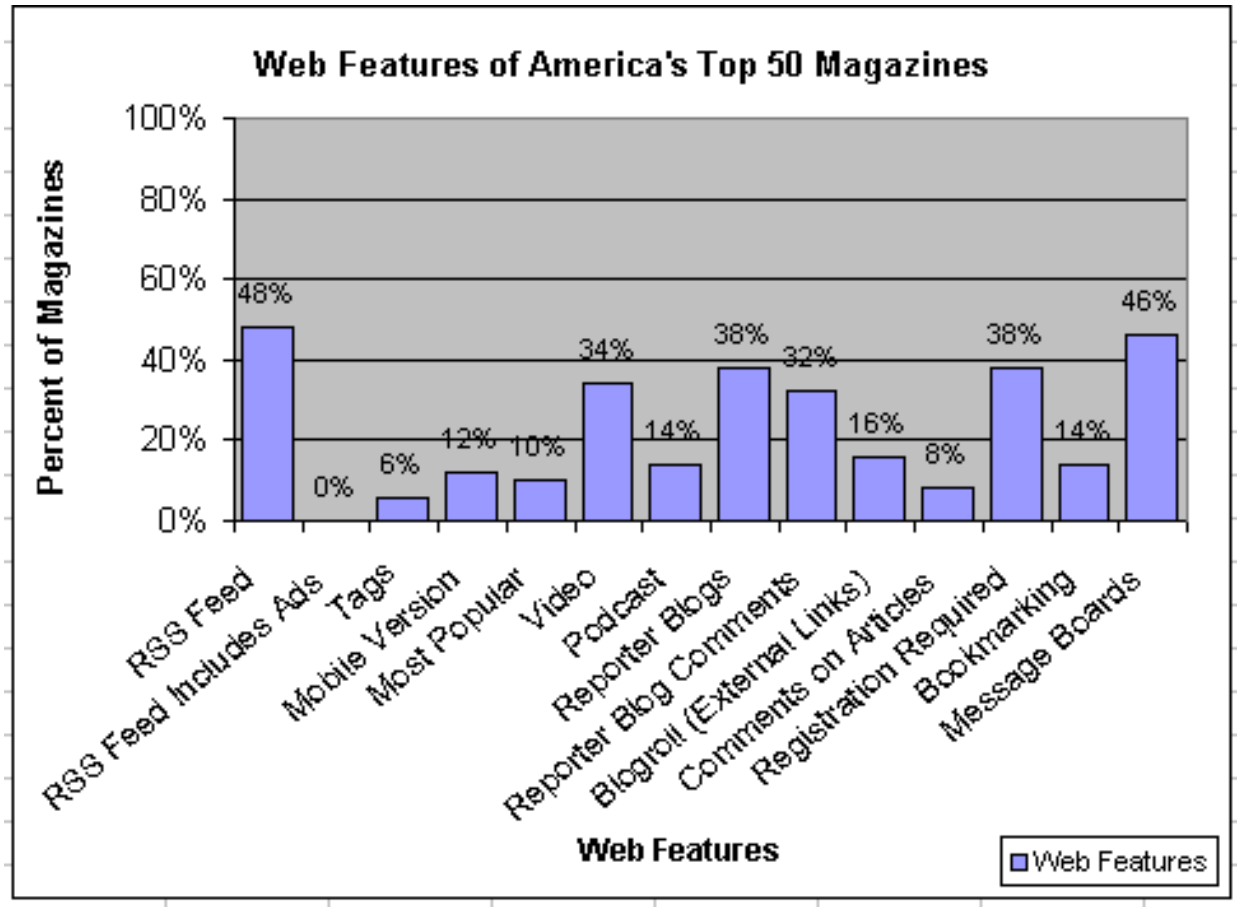
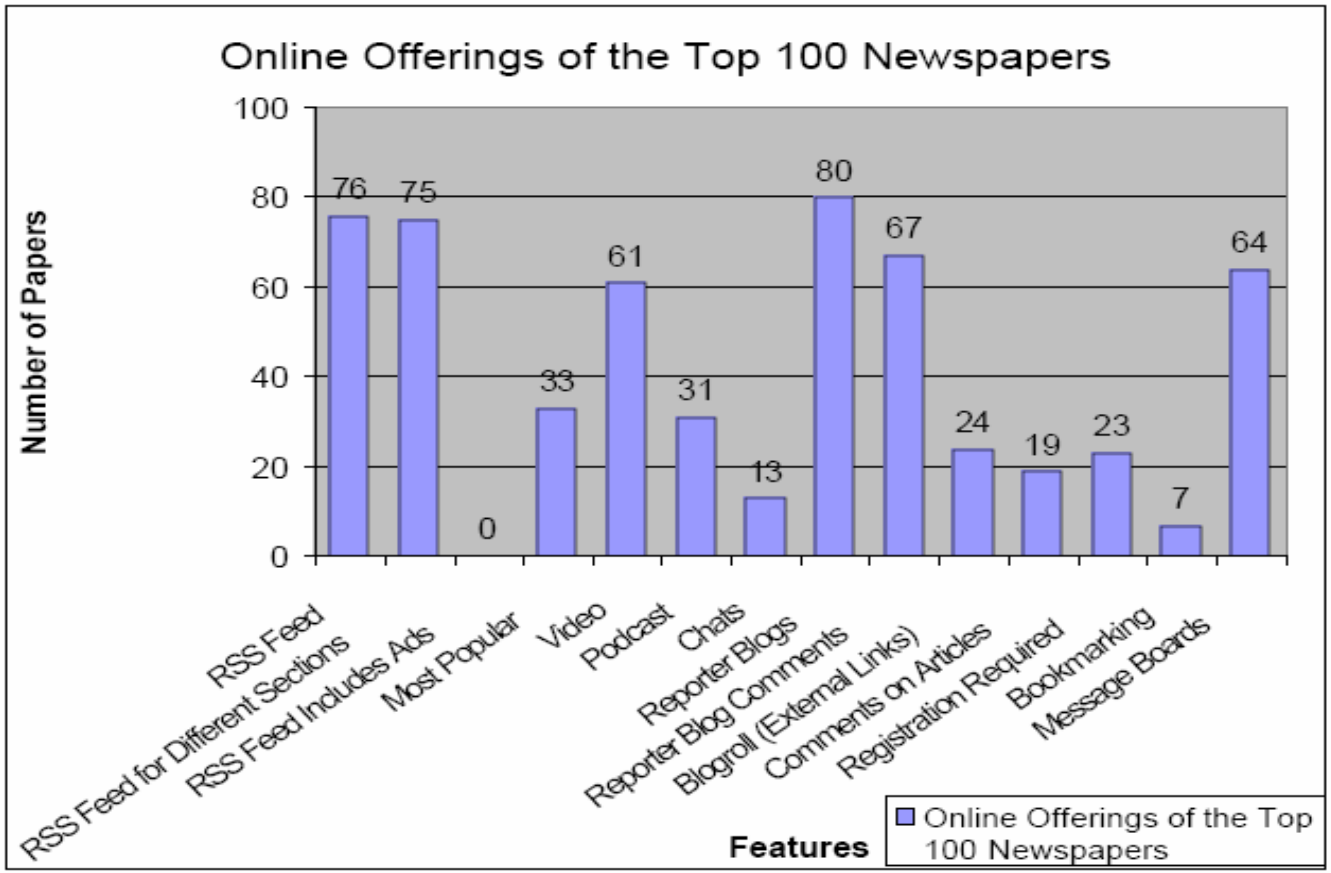
What is Social?

- Life is Social
- Learning is social
- Community and neighbourhoods are social
- Networks are social
- Libraries and schools are social
- Research is social (especially inter-disciplinary)
- Creation is social
- Humanity is social
- Student and scholarly life is social

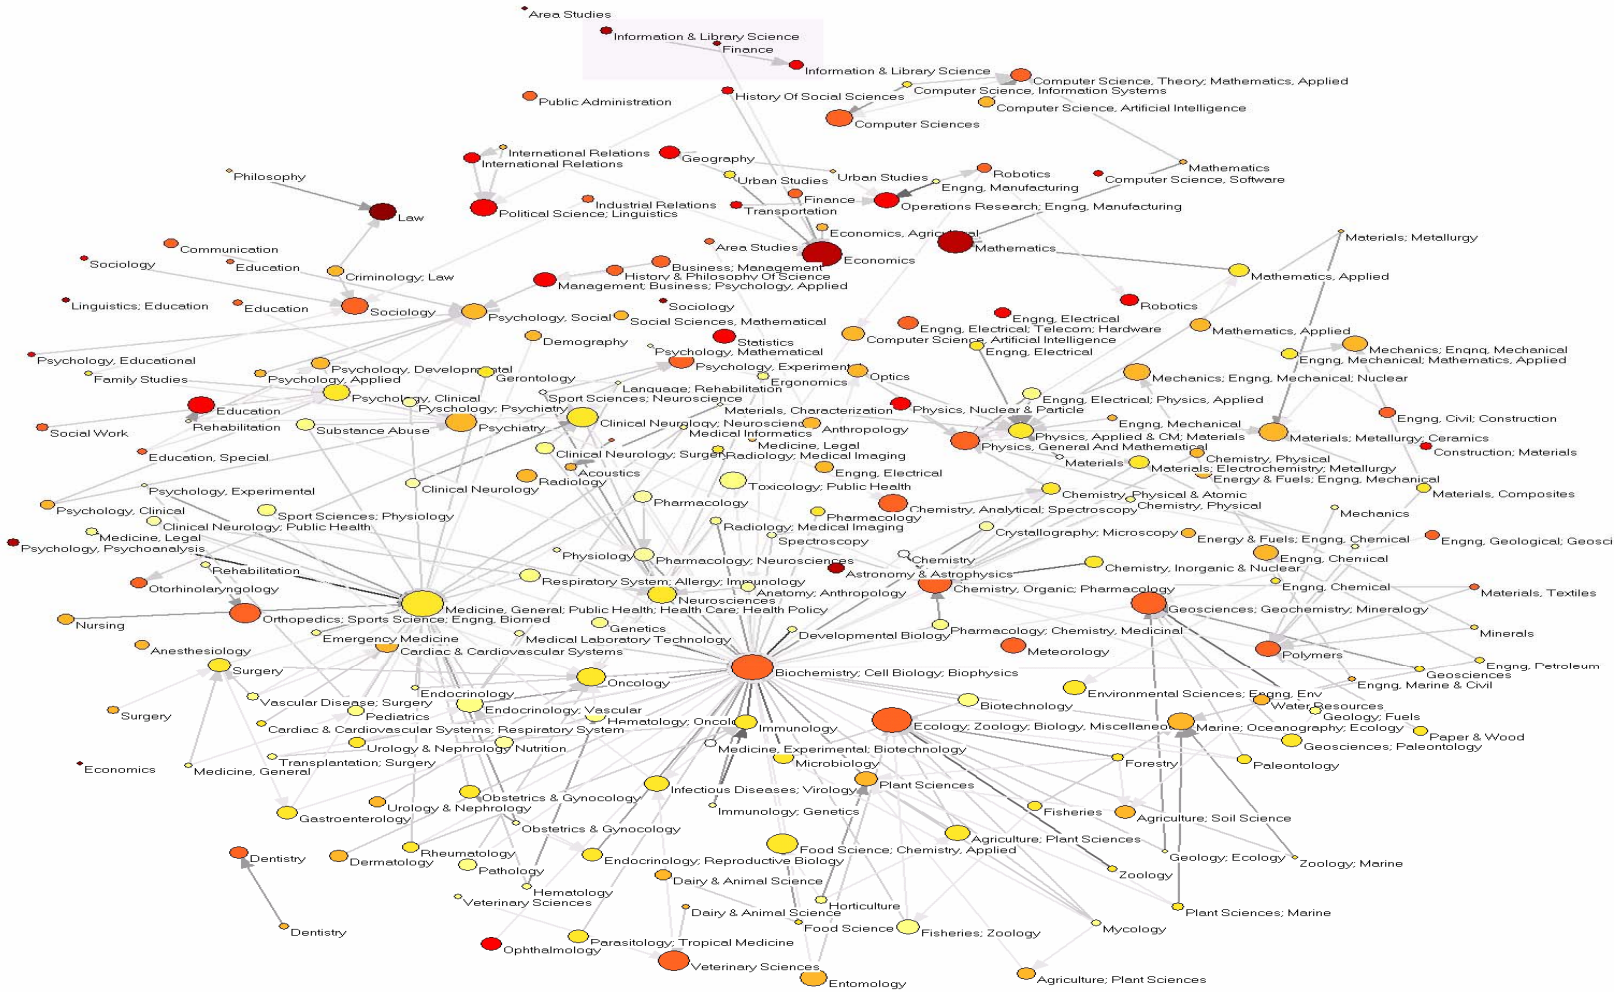
Is Magazine Content Social?



Is News Content Social?



Are Scholars' Citations Social?



Libraries are Social Institutions

We have a clear and valid interest in applications and environment that drive social experiences.

A tag is simply a word you use to describe a bookmark. Unlike folders, you make up tags when you need them and you can use as many as you like. The result is a better way to organize your bookmarks and a great way to discover interesting things on the Web.

Kyle: We do have access to such a database, it's called Proquest Dissertations and Theses - Full Text: http://www.library.ualbert a.ca/databases/databaseinfo/index.cfm?ID=168. If it's a recent thesis, there's a good chance that it is available full-text on this db. Otherwise, there would be a paper copy of it held in the UA Libraries' system.
Let me know if you find it. - Randy

FYI

Linden Lab is temporarily postponing the release of 1.9.1. They will continue to release updated versions of 1.9.1 on the preview grid for testing. They will still be bringing the grid down for some hardware and server side code upgrades. These changes will occur between tomorrow from 6am to noon SLT.

Reading is virtually fundamental in SL

ZACK MORTAL HOSTED A class titled "Introduction to Library Research" yesterday at the new Second Life Library 2.0. The class covered the fundamentals of using real-life online library resources. Mortal covered how to use library catalogs, subject headings to improve searches; use research databases to locate articles and more. - COURTESY PHOTO.

ALS, which is based in East Peoria, Ill., will team up with Online Programming for All Libraries (OPAL) and utilize the programs, currently offered online to librarians and libraries, within SL. The two entities eventually hope to offer a plethora of library services.

In a telephone interview, Kitty Pope, executive director for the ALS, said the goal of their programs within SL is to reach people who might not otherwise go to a library. In giving background information about the ALS, Pope said the organization

Librarians from all over the country are gathering in SL to assist in setting up the virtual library. In fact, Pope expected criticism from many library blogs, but instead has found those in the field to be immensely excited about the possibilities afforded by SL.

Bell concurred, saying, "The response has been enthusiastic. People are volunteering and doing a

Hubble Space Telescope

The Hubble Space telescope orbits (circles) the Earth at a height of about 600 kilometers (375 miles). Since it was launched in 1990, astronomers have used it to collect information that helps them work out the age of the universe and how fast it is expanding. Looking too close

The Landscape Today

The Emerging Landscape

It's an Information Ocean, not a Highway.

We librarians must learn that when we study something to death, Death was not our original goal.

Libraries are a community "Exploration Space" not merely a collection space.
